

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

By MRS. ELIZABETH T. THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of 16. (1)—How can I entertain for a young lady of 20? She is in mourning. (2)—Is it proper for a young lady to shake hands with a boy friend at a dance? Or should she just speak to him? (3)—I am going with a young man about my age and whenever he takes me home he always persists in kissing me before he leaves. Is it proper for him to do this? What shall I do? (4)—Can I wear a large hat about 18 inches in diameter or would a smaller one be better? I am five feet two inches tall. JANE.

(1)—A quiet luncheon would be appropriate. Invite a few friends in for an evening of music or for cards, if she plays. When I say "cards," I mean a game just played for entertainment and not to win prizes. Take her to any entertainments that may be going on in your neighborhood and she would probably enjoy a visit to the theatre.

(2)—She might shake hands with him when she first greets him. (3)—Tell him you are getting too old for such a childish habit and that you are not going to let any boys at all kiss you any more until you are engaged to the man you are going to marry. (4)—It would not be too large, according to present styles.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Is it proper for a bride-to-be to announce her engagement to her girl friends by giving a luncheon? If so, how soon before the wedding? GIRLIE.

Yes, as soon as you wish the engagement made public.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am so interested in Heart and Home Problems and though 43 years old and the mother of four children I feel one is never too old to learn. We do all our own work except washing and ironing. I do all my sewing and baking. I enjoy it very much when I am well. Lately I have taken a great liking to read, but I cannot read over 10 minutes without going to sleep. Have been this way for years. Even after I take a nap, then think I will read, I go to sleep. Please let me hear from you.

I send you a household note—For those who don't want to throw away a good granite coffee pot for a percolator. Put coffee in a piece of flour sack or muslin and tie with string, put cold water in pot, put this tied-up coffee in and boil. You will have as fine coffee as any percolator can make. MOTHER.

Thank you, mother, for the household note. I am sure it will prove valuable to many readers. A great many people cannot read with going to sleep. I do not know what would cure the habit.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—I am a girl of 19 and kept company with a young man of 21 a short time while he lived in this city. He has moved away and we correspond. He has asked me several times to visit him, but I think it his place to visit me first. I know him to be a good Christian young man. What should I do?

(2)—A friend of mine keeps company with a young man. He seems to think a lot of her, but every pretty face he sees he falls in love with. Would you advise her to quit keeping company with him? BRUNETTE.

(1)—If his mother or sister should invite you it would be quite proper for you to visit at his home. You cannot go there on his invitation.

(2)—A man may admire a great many pretty girls and yet be absolutely true to one girl. I wouldn't advise her to throw him over on that account only.

O. has been engaged by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the president-elect, to act as her private secretary during her residence in the White house. The young woman already has taken charge of the correspondence of the next "first lady of the land," in the Wilson mansion in Sea-girt, N. J. Miss Bayless was born in West Union, O., and was graduated from the Villa de Chantal Visitation academy in Rock Island, Ill. Her father, F. D. Bayless, is an attorney in the Ohio city. A sister, Mrs. Jessie Bayless Harrison, resides at 828 Hinman avenue, Evanston. Miss Bayless is known as a "bachelor girl," and has won recognition in the theatrical world. Recently she was employed as secretary to Owen Johnson while he was writing "Stover at Yale." She has been a clerk in the Ohio legislature.

LOVE OF POKER IS MAN'S UNDOING

Stays Out All Night to Play With the Boys While Wife Remains Home.

LECTURE LEADS TO FIGHT

Friend Husband Draws a Cauliflower Ear and a 10-Day Jail Sentence.

A stack of poker chips, a deck of cards and an inclination to stay away from home nights landed Ralph Meredith, 2109 Fifth avenue, in the county jail this morning, after his wife had related a long tale of woe to the court.

Ralph likes to sit around the green baize, in the mellow glow of the incandescents, a cigar tilted from his mouth at an angle of 40 degrees, and a stack of red, white and blues placed in neat array anterior to his shirt bosom. Those pet phrases, "I'll play with you," "Raise you 18 seeds" and "Wot-inell do you know about such luck," are as sweet siren strains to Ralph's ear.

NIX ON HOME STUFF.

As to that cozy domestic scene, in which friend husband is seated before the glowing hearthstone, with a package of "Velvet" on the table, his old jimmy pipe and the sporting sheet, whilst friend wife divides her time between crocheting a new scarf for Aunt Mary and the perusal of "The Book of Great Love" by Birdseye Maple Clay—why, Ralph cannot see that at all. He yearns for the companionship of the boys and believes that wife should stick around the house and map out the next day's cleaning campaign of an evening, while he is splitting a quart with Bill's friend from Bosting.

SOME BATTLE.

After the poker festivals had continued for an extenuated period, wife remonstrated with hubby, who, being slightly under the influence, proceeded to blacken her orbs and utilize her as a punching bag. Wife came back strong with the business end of a broom, and left a cauliflower ear on hubby's knob as an eloquent testimonial of her undying affection. She then had him arrested, and this morning Ralph was sent down for 10 days.

Paris Says:

"Large Hats Are in Much Favor, Though Toques and Tams are Also Popular"

Plush, velvet and velours dominate. "The question of hat trimming is an important one; for the success of a hat depends even more on its trimming and on how it is adjusted than on the actual shape of the hat itself." The overtrimmed hat is "out of date" this season. Just the proper amount, correctly posed takes the place of the massiveness of former seasons.

Ostrich plumes are especially modish; fancy feathers, quills and ornaments are good style. It requires all the art of a high-class milliner to trim the hat so simply and yet so smartly as to be acceptable to the women of good taste.

Untrimmed Velour Shapes.

The woman who has waited until now for one of those beautiful soft velour hats is certainly in great luck.

Wednesday, all day, the handsomest $4.50, $5.00 and $6.00 velour hats, black and nearly every color for $1.95 and $2.65, less than half price. We repeat, best shapes and choicest colors, only $2.65 and $1.95

LITTLE CHILD IS ASSAULT VICTIM

Ten-Year-Old Girl Tells of Attack Made Upon her by 17-Year-Old Boy.

BOTH RESIDENTS OF SEARS

Assailant, William Purshell, Bound Over to Grand Jury Under $1,000 Bonds.

A revolting story of a powerful brute's criminal assault upon a little child was heard in all its repulsive details in police court this morning, when pretty little Bessie Horton of Sears, a fragile little wisp of humanity, only 10 years of age, and too young to understand the nature of an oath, told how a big 17-year-old boy attacked her in the presence of her two little brothers, threw her to the ground and outraged her, then fleeing to his home. The attack took place on Nov. 11, and the girl's assailant, William Purshell, fearing even to go on the stand in his own defense was held to the grand jury under $1,000 bonds. The surety was furnished and the boy allowed to go free.

BROTHERS SEE DEED.

The girl's testimony was corroborated by her two brothers, Raymond, aged 8, and Fred aged 6, who were witnesses to the crime. The attack occurred on Monday morning, two weeks ago. The little girl, in company with her brothers, was on her way to school. Both principals in the case are residents of Sears. Bessie told how they went down to the bank of Rock river and were playing in a boat, when the Purshell boy came up to her, threw her to the ground, and held his hand over her mouth to prevent her from screaming. His criminal act completed, he fled to his home, while the little girl, ran weeping to her mother and told of the attack. An examination convinced her that the revolting story was true, and frantic with grief the mother sought out the Purshell boy at his home. There, claims the mother, the boy pleaded with her not to make trouble over the matter, and offered her money to drop the case.

TEARFUL SCENE.

A warrant was sworn out last Thursday and the boy placed under arrest, the case being continued until today. While the Horton girl was giving her testimony, relatives of Purshell sat beside him and smiled, but when the court bound him over to the grand jury, their smiles were changed to tears. J. L. Haas appeared for the defendant, while Assistant State Attorney Ingleson, prosecuted.

SCHOOL CHILDREN GIVE TO CHARITY

Following Annual Custom of Donating Eatables and Clothing to Institutions.

In accordance with the custom established several years ago by the school authorities, the students of the various public institutions of learning today began bringing to their respective buildings, various kinds of gifts, mostly in the shape of eatables and clothing, which will be distributed among the charitable institutions of the city Thanksgiving day. The beneficiaries will be the children of Bethany Home, the Association House, and the West End Settlement. The Thanksgiving spirit has been kept constantly before the pupils during the past month and all are in a frame of mind which makes them willing givers of what they have.

The usual Thanksgiving recesses of two days—Thursday and Friday—will be observed in the schools this year.

CONSIDER PLANS FOR ASSOCIATION HOUSE

A called meeting of the Associated Charities was held at the Association house last evening to consider the resignation of the matron, Mrs. Kolls, and to discuss plans for carrying on the work at the home. A committee com-

Nelson, 208 North Third street, Rockford, Ill. J. W. Johnson of Emmanuel Lutheran church officiating. The wedding was a simple home ceremony and the bride couple was unattended. ### Winter Aids To Beauty

(By Mme. D'Almeida.)

"If the eyebrows are thin and washed-out looking, they can be made to come in darker and longer by gentle massaging with plain vasoline. Applying vasoline to the lashes with the finger tips will make them grow long and lovely."

"Dainty complexions suffer from cold winds and wintry weather. The best protection is a lotion made by dissolving a package of mayonaise in a half pint of witch hazel. Rub this over the face, neck and arms in the morning and it will hold all day. It is a true beautifier and does not rub off or show like powder. Mayonaise makes the skin soft, smooth and white and prevents growth of hair."

"Mother's Salve gives almost instant relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, colds in head or chest and is a sovereign remedy for catarrh. It should be used on every woman's dresser."

"Superb hair on face or forehead can be quickly and painlessly removed. Make a paste with a little delicate and water, cover the hairs, permit to remain two minutes, wipe off, wash the skin, and the hairs are gone. Wash the head exposes one to catching cold, and too much moisture dries and deadens the hair; therefore, dry shampooing is growing in popularity among women who know. Mix four ounces of powdered orris root with a package of theriac; sprinkle a little of this mixture on the head, brush out, and your scalp is clean, and your hair wavy, lustrous and easy to do up. Theriac encourages the hair roots."—(Advertisement.)
